TN Ward Company Adopts Cloud Deployment In Support of Continued Growth

Computer Guidance Customer Looks to the Cloud for Resource Optimization and Ongoing Efficiencies

Scottsdale, Arizona – October 26, 2017 – Computer Guidance Corporation, the leading developer of ERP software solutions for the construction industry, today announced that TN Ward Company has moved its eCMS Construction ERP solution to the Cloud to gain resource optimization and ongoing efficiencies.

TN Ward Company, a leading commercial contractor in Pennsylvania, continuously evaluates how its construction backlog and business strategy align with its resource allocation in the field and the office. To gain additional efficiencies, productivity and improved profits, the general contractor decided to move its eCMS Construction ERP to the Cloud.

"We have been pleased with eCMS," said Mark Smith, CFO at TN Ward Company. "eCMS has helped our organization achieve tangible benefits with the financial and project management of our construction jobs. The Cloud deployment of our eCMS solution prepares us well as we respond to our organization's continued growth."

"The move to the cloud is in line with our organization's IT Strategy. We wanted to continue with our eCMS ERP deployment, and a cloud service just simply means IT can continue to focus on how to leverage technology to enable the organization to achieve the best outcomes for our clients, employees and the community," said Mike Weber, Controller, TN Ward Company.

"Cloud deployment and web-based software solutions are becoming the standard in all industries as they offer business agility," said Mike Bihlmeier, President of Computer Guidance. "Forward-thinking CIOs are deploying cloud solutions as a strategic weapon, not just for IT, but to enable full business transformation."
